

School prior to beginning her career as a distinguished civil rights lawyer. Jacqueline cut her teeth while working with the Voting Rights Project of the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law in the District of Columbia and with the National Legal Department and Women's Rights Project of the American Civil Liberties Union in New York. After several successful years, Jacqueline became an assistant counsel to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Legal Defense and Education Fund, where she focused on voting rights and school desegregation. She left the NAACP to become a program officer for the Ford Foundation's Peace and Social Justice Program, before returning as associate director-counsel of the NAACP's Legal Defense and Education Fund.

In 2010, President Barack Obama appointed Jacqueline Berrien as Chair of the EEOC, where she continued the work of combating discrimination, excelling as a public official in combating workplace discrimination. During her tenure, Jacqueline took on the new frontiers in employment discrimination, and despite budget shortfalls and a surge in cases, she helped the EEOC to significantly reduce its case backlog. As a civil rights lawyer and former chair of the EEOC myself, I worked with Jacqueline Berrien here in the Congress and greatly admired her many contributions to the work of the EEOC.

Jacqueline Berrien, in a life cut short by cancer, nevertheless managed to leave a rich civil rights legacy, consummated by a presidential appointment to do that work for the entire nation. Our country is fortunate that this champion for civil rights, rich in talent, short in time, managed to accomplish so much.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to join me in honoring Jacqueline Ann Berrien for her exceptional civil rights career, for her service to the United States of America, and for a life well lived.

H.R. 3662 AND S.J. RES. 22

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 13, 2016

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I was unable to make today's votes due to important business in my district. Had I been here, I would have voted against both H.R. 3662 and S.J. Res. 22.

S.J. Res. 22, the bill to kill the Waters of the United States rule, is a cynical attempt to endanger the public health to score points with anti-environmental interests.

At this very moment, parents in Flint, Michigan are worried about their children's future after toxic lead exposure in their water. The blame for their concerns belongs here and in Lansing where anti-environmental interests have co-opted elected leaders. Today, Republicans spoke about the governors who have not challenged the Waters of the United States rule, saying they were too afraid to stand up for corporate interests. Bills like S.J. Res. 22 leave me wondering when my colleagues across the aisle will have the courage to stand up to corporate interests and for their constituents.

H.R. 3662 is a similarly wrong-headed bill, which requires the President to certify things he cannot know or prove, and would have the effect of blocking the Iran Deal from going into place. Bills that serve no purpose other than inflaming tensions between the United States and Iran have no place in this body, and I strongly condemn this attempt to derail the Iran Deal.

IN MEMORY OF TAMON ARENCE WILLIS

HON. TED POE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, January 13, 2016

Mr. POE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, "loving", "witty", "thoughtful", "prankster", "mama's boy".

These are a few words that came to mind instantly by those who knew and loved Tamon Arence Willis.

Eighteen years old, Tamon had just completed his first semester at the University of Houston. He was working two part time jobs to help ease the financial burden from his parents. Born in The Woodlands, Texas, Tamon graduated from New Caney High School at the top of the Class of 2015. He was proud of his Texas roots, and he held on to them. He lived in a small town, New Caney, just outside of Houston.

As a big brother, Tamon loved his four younger siblings. He was their protector. He was also a self-described prankster whose pranks were usually targeted at his younger brothers and sisters.

With the love and support of his family, at the start of his college career, Tamon had a bright future ahead of him. The world was his oyster. It was until this past Saturday morning, just five days before his 19th birthday. Tamon had woken up early to go to work when sadly and tragically, his life was cut short in a hit and run motorcycle crash.

Like a cold hearted coward, the driver who hit Tamon fled the scene. He had no remorse or compassion for what he did. He just left Tamon in the middle of the road. Another vehicle then came and hit Tamon again, causing the driver to lose control, where he crashed and ended up in the ditch. Tamon died at the scene.

Word spread fast in the small community; tragic events and loss have a way of bringing people together. The Willis family soon found themselves surrounded by friends and family members, while authorities released a surveillance video from the convenience store of the vehicle in question. The search for the cowardly driver was on.

The photo and video of the suspect's vehicle was quickly circulated to news media and shared via social media. By Sunday night, Texas DPS troopers arrested Eric Brian Ellison, an ex-con from nearby Crosby, Texas, and charged him with Accident Involving Death. May justice be swift for this heinous crime.

On Thursday, January 14, Tamon will be laid to rest on what would have been his 19th birthday. Tamon's parents have made the decision to have his funeral on his birthday as a way to celebrate his life. Although they mourn the loss of their son, they wish to celebrate his brilliant life and cherish their loving son.

On behalf of the constituents of the Second Congressional District, I extend my deepest sympathies to the Willis family. Our thoughts and prayers go out to them during this most difficult time.

And that's just the way it is.
